The Honorable Allen W. Dulles
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I can't tell you how deeply I appreciated your very thoughtful letter. I am greatly encouraged these days by the attention which the redefection problem is receiving and by the aggressive and intelligent action being taken by the Government.

There are a few aspects of the problem which are still not, I think, adequately understood, and I look forward to an opportunity to visit with you when I am next in Washington. If there is any possibility of your being in New York some time soon, I am especially eager to show you through the interesting facilities of the Research Institute.

With warm personal regards,

Sincerely,
